2013 National Trainers' Show Stake Champion, I'm Bruce Pearl and Jimmy McConnell, by Unanimous Decision

SHELBYVILLE, TN- The 45th Annual National Walking Horse Trainers' Show was held on March 14-16, 2013, at the Calsonic Arena in Shelbyville, TN. The small town of Shelbyville was brimming with horse show enthusiasts who were in town for the first big show of the year. It's been a long, wet winter and everyone was anxious for their horse "fix"!

Again this year, a three-judge panel officiated over the entire show. The Honorable Bill Cantrell of Phenix City, AL, the Honorable Jamie Hankins of Paris, KY and the Honorable Brent Grider of Columbia, KY judged the three-session event. The Co-Chairmen for the show were Benny Johnson and Buist Carr with the help of Show Secretary Marcia Allison and Program Chairman Dee Cantrell. Mark Farrar, as always, did a great job announcing with the help of Ginny Winfree. The organist for the event was Brian Peery and Doug Shiflet took the winning photographs. The ribbons and trophies were handled by Sherry Johnson.

The Trainers' Show is the traditional season opener and the show was a much needed success! Entries were up from last year. With 546 entries in 63 classes, the crowd was treated to an evening of talented horses every night! The trainers also had a silent auction taking place on the upper concourse to help raise money and had some good items for people to bid on.

Most importantly, the trainers did a stellar job of presenting their horses in a polished and professional manner. They have set the standard for the year. The horses were showy and exciting and proved that there can be a positive performance of the Tennessee Walking Horse. The owners and exhibitors were expecting an upbeat and successful show and the trainers delivered!

The 45th Annual National Trainers' Show was dedicated to Jimmy Kimbro, who passed away in 2012. Jimmy is a longtime supporter of the walking horse industry. He opened Bedford Tack, Inc. in 1979. His customer service and loyalty to his customers, as well as the walking horse industry, will make his business continue to prosper for years to come.

In addition to Jimmy Kimbro the show also dedicated their 45th Annual Show to Hoyte Eakes. Hoyte Eakes had a successful career in the grocery industry. After he retired, he was able to spend all of his time in the Tennessee Walking Horse industry. He started his farm, Hidden Acres Farm, in Nashville, TN. He won many championships over the years with his show horses and horses that he bred. He was inducted into the Walking Horse Hall of Fame. His grandson, Nathan Mills, successfully shows the products of Eake's breeding program.

Friday night in the Amateur 15.2 & Under Stallions class the judges had marked their cards differently, tying one horse first, second and third. They had to have a three horse work out. The tie was between Texas Joe Black with Kathy Zeis, Don Julio and Alie Napier and Holyfield with Clay Mills. These three talented teams put on an outstanding workout to get the crowd standing and cheering for their favorite. After their exciting performances, the judges tied Texas Joe Black first with Don Julio placing reserve.

The grand finale of the show was the Walking Horse Championship. Five top entries made the gate call for the much anticipated class. When the judges walked the line, it was A Bruce Pearl and Jimmy McConnell who caught their attention. Owned by Mike and Lee McGartland, the champion was a unanimous decision by the judges. This team will be formidable contenders at the Celebration. I'm Deuce and Casey Wright were the reserve champions for very proud owners, Billy Max and Debbie Woods.

The complete show results and judges cards not only follow, but can also be seen, saved and printed from our complimentary website at www.thescooponline.com. The SCOOP site has up-to-date news, photos and page by page of each edition online. The SCOOP congratulates all the winners from the Trainers' Show and looks forward to celebrating your wins in 2013.

A Bruce Pearl and Jimmy McConnell topped a great class of five top entries to claim the Walking Horse Stake class championship title by unanimous decision for owners, Mike and Lee McGartland.

Robert Cortner and World Grand Champion mount, Pushin' That Jazz, were the Youth Specialty Champions. The duo was met by his parents following their victory lap.

Morgan Murphy had two great rides at the Trainers' Show. She claimed the blue in the Auxiliary Equitation Youth Specialty class and Reserve in the Auxiliary Equitation Canter class.

Last year's World Grand Champion 15. 2 & Under winner picked up right where he left off by claiming the Trainers' Show blue by unanimous choice. Mr. Heisman and Brandye Mills made owners, Randall and Sadie Baskin, proud after their blue ribbon debut for 2013. Kelly Stewart, Larry and Terry Lowman, Sadie and Randall Baskin along with Kelly and Brackin Mills greet the team.

The Concealed Weapon and Patti Pollack once again made a blue ribbon performance to claim top honors in the Amateur Park Performance class. This duo topped a large class and left the ring with the title to start their 2013 show season off right. Friends and crew from David Landrum Stables were on hand to celebrate the victory.

I'm Wallstreet and Clay Mills were the Amateur Specialty Champions. This talented team also won the Men's Amateur Specialty class. Baucom Stables came out to celebrate Clay's win with him.

Dr. David Ranson along with friends and fans came out to congratulate Chad Baucom and I'm Jail Bait for winning the Two Year Old Mares and Geldings class.

Lined Up At The Ritz and Patrick Thomas won the Park Pleasure Specialty Championship class by unanimous decision. Cassique Plantation also owns Armed & Trigger Happy who won in the Western Park Pleasure class.

A new class has been added this year – the Amateur Five Year Olds. The first winner of this class was the world championship team of Gin Toddy and Sue Irby. Their large fan club was thrilled with their performance following their unanimous win.

The Scoop For The Walking Horse Industry

TAX COURT CASE INVOLVING COW ACTIVITY AND HORSE ACTIVITY BY JOHN ALAN COHAN, ATTORNEY AT LAW

The outcome of cases in Tax Court depend somewhat on the philosophical approach of the individual judge hearing the case. Some judges are more sympathetic than others to losses incurred by taxpayers in the horse and livestock industries.

Some cases involve a combination of activities, such as Smith v. Commissioner, T.C. Memo 2007-368. This involved a cow and dairy farm, a cutting horse operation, and dog breeding. The court held that the cow and dairy farm was engaged in for profit under the IRS hobby loss rules, but not the other activities.

The taxpayers had taken significant tax deductions against their income from the activities, thus prompting an IRS audit, which they lost and then appealed to the Tax Court.

As discussed in the decision, the taxpayers believed that their dairy farms were not doing well, so they sought a niche market in Normande cattle. They installed a milking parlor with automatic milking equipment and other improvements were made, pastureland reclaimed, and miles of fencing installed.

The taxpayers had a formal 7-year business plan written by a professional that focused on importing of bull semen from France. They obtained certification as an organic farm with a view towards selling milk at higher prices than conventional milk. They consulted with experts, maintained a separate checking account, and focused on ways to maximize revenue. Gross revenues exceeded $100,000 for some years, but there was still a net loss. The taxpayers said they expected to increase revenue due to the organic certification.

They took steps to maximize revenues that the court said demonstrated their intention to show a profit (despite ongoing losses). They hired a full-time farm manager who, the court noted "did approach the operation of the cow activity in a businesslike manner," although he did not keep many formal records. The manager lived on a trailer on the property, and the taxpayers retained decision-making authority.

Through study, the taxpayers gained expertise in the breeding of cows and in the use of Normande cows for dairy purposes. They grazed the cattle rather than confining them because they believed that grazing positively affects the longevity of the cattle. They sought professional advice and successfully used their previous dog-breeding expertise in the farm venture. They spent an average of 20 to 30 hours per week on the cow and dairy farm activity, and the court said this was "significant."

The court ruled in favor of the taxpayers on the cow operation. The court noted that the taxpayers reduced expenses, had a farm manager, spent a significant amount of time on the farm, had a separate checking account, and focused on a competitive breed. Their formal business plan helped them win the case.

The court, however, ruled against them regarding their horse activity. The taxpayers showed and bred cutting horses. There was no business plan and very little by way of books and records. Oral testimony about the horse activity was "lacking in specifics." The taxpayer who testified "discussed horse bloodlines but failed to indicate much about his horses, such as the year and cost of purchase, the training regimen, the events entered, purses and competitions won, breeding efforts, profit analyses, business plans, necessity of expenses, sale price, and so forth."

The bank account used for the horse activity was the taxpayer's personal checking account. There was no evidence to show the horses purchased or their progress and profitability. There were no budgets, operating statements, or analysis to show the financial aspects of the activity.

The court said: "Someone with the intent to make a profit from cutting horses could be expected to have adequate information from which to analyze the expenses and to project the progress of the activity. The activity was for the most part undocumented and there was little or no interest shown in the financial aspect of the activity or its prospects."

The court noted that the taxpayer consulted with numerous experts, but didn't have details of the specific advice obtained. There was no explanation of "how the advice he obtained was used or how it assisted in the attempt to seek profits from the activity." The court said that that this factor was in favor of the taxpayer, despite the limited nature of the evidence. Still, the court ruled against the taxpayers on the horse activity.

The court also ruled against the taxpayers on their dog breeding activity, for much of the same reasons as it denied the horse activity deductions.

The Scoop For The Walking Horse Industry

TWHBEA INTRODUCES NEW SERVICE HORSE PROGRAM

Lewisburg, TN - The Tennessee Walking Horse Breeders' And Exhibitors' Association (TWHBEA) is proud to announce the formation of a new program to benefit people who are interested in using horses in the service of others and their communities. We recognize the training and documentation needs of those interested in Mounted Patrol, Equine Therapy and Search and Rescue. We want to assist and encourage these worthwhile and important endeavors by administering a program that will aid in every level of service horse development and support. The Service Horse Program is open to all breeds of horses.

The goals of TWHBEA's Service Horse Program are to:

- Provide documentation assistance for members to keep training records for themselves and the training and usage of their horses
- Identify and develop service horse trainers and instructors and assist them with instructor development to teach safe, non abusive and ethical training methods.
- Provide online videos and current issues training to members via the TWHBEA website.
- Assist in providing economical Service Horse training clinics.
- Encourage members to use their horses in the service of others.
- Recognize the people that use their horses in the service of others.

The objectives of TWHBEA's Service Horse Program are to:

- Develop a system for online documentation of training.
- Produce training videos that will assist in the training of members and horses.
- Identify existing training videos and incorporate them into the database.
- Encourage equine trainers and instructors to get involved.
- Develop a registration system for non-Tennessee Walking Horse Service Horses so records may be kept on their usage and training regardless of breed.
- Develop relationships with federal, state, local and private organizations to assist our members in finding ways to use their horses for mounted patrol, equine therapy and search and rescue.
- Provide members with an online market for the sale or purchase of service horses and related equipment via the TWHBEA website.

Benefits of TWHBEA's Service Horse Program include:

- Access to the Service Horse area of TWHBEA's website, which will host all online training videos that, when viewed, will be documented by your unique membership number and recorded to the database.
- The Service Horse area of the website will also include information on upcoming training and events, trainer and instructor listings and a link to the service horse and equipment online market.
- Through the Service Horse area of the website you will be able to document all of your training activities and all of the training and service activities of your horses.

In order to take advantage of this new and unique program, participants must purchase a membership with TWHBEA for the regular fee of $60.00 per year. Those that have never been a member of TWHBEA can purchase their first year's membership for only $35.00. For those that wish to utilize the registration system for non-Tennessee Walking Horse Service Horses, there will be a one-time administrative fee of $40.00 in addition to the membership fee. Membership in TWHBEA will entitle Service Horse Program participants to all of the Association's member benefits including access to programs, subscription to the Voice Magazine, the ability to conduct business at member rates, special discount programs and one free foal registration or transfer per year (foal must be registered within six months of foal date/transfer must be completed within 30 days of the purchase date).

For more information on TWHBEA's Service Horse Program and member benefits please visit www.twhbea.com or call 931-359-1574.

VENDOR SPACE AVAILABLE AT WORLD VERSATILITY SHOW AND NATIONAL FUTURITY

Lewisburg, TN - The Tennessee Walking Horse Breeders' And Exhibitors' Association (TWHBEA) is pleased to invite any and all vendors to set up at both the World Versatility Show and National Futurity. Both of these shows are championship caliber events that attract exhibitors and spectators from around the country and both will provide excellent opportunities for vendors to market their products and/or services. Miller Coliseum requires a fee of $25.00 per day for vendors to set up during the events. TWHBEA will not be charging anything extra. Vendors wishing to set up can make arrangements and payment by contacting TWHBEA at 931-359-1574. The World Versatility Show is scheduled for July 25th through the 27th and the National Futurity will be held the evening of July 28th.

ANNUAL WALKING FOR EDUCATION HORSE SHOW

The Annual Walking for Education Horse Show will be held on Friday, April 5, 2013 at the Tennessee Livestock Center on the campus of Middle Tennessee State University.

The show begins at 5:30 PM and admission is $3 with children under 5 being admitted free.

This show is all about fun and old traditions! There will be great food, and merchandise vendors, and a silent auction. This year there will be a Photo Booth set up during the show for the exhibitors and spectators to have their pictures taken by Chad Moore of Chad Moore Media from Memphis, Tn. Music for the show and for entertainment will be provided by the very capable organist, Chase A. Williams.

There will be 33 invigorating classes that include flat shod and padded performance horses. We have also added a new class to the show. This year we will have an Amateur 5 Year Old Stallions, Mares, and Geldings Class, the winner receive a medallion from The Tennessee Walking Horse National Celebration. We are also crowning our Juvenile 12-17 Championship rider with a floral horseshoe, trophies, and prize money!

The Walking for Education Horse Show is a major source of funds for the Walking For A Change Foundation. The goal of Walking For A Change is to educate the public about Tennessee Walking Horses through hosting clinics & exhibitions, and to spread the TRUTH about the greatest horses to ever WALK on this earth!

I, Martin D. Johnson, urge the community to come out to enjoy the show and help us raise funds to save our horse. If anyone is interested in sponsoring a class(es), trophies, ribbons, please contact me.

Show Manager Martin D. Johnson may be reached at 901-319-6992 or MDJ3E@mtmail.mtsu.edu

IT'S ALL ABOUT APPEARANCE

English Attire

In the show horse world, being a fashion plate doesn't earn you blue ribbons. But being correctly attired and accessorized could make the difference when all else is equal.

Show season is here! It's time to look forward to a new year of fun and enjoyment at horse shows. Though the economy overshadows us all, show ring competition will still be fierce and presentation will play as important a role as ever this year.

Do you find yourself getting confused before a big show when it comes to picking out the perfect combination of suit, shirt and tie? If you are like most of us, the choices seem endless and the guidelines for what to wear and what not to wear slip from memory. You cannot let those last minute details escape your thoughts before a show because the judges come with a scrutinizing eye! You want to have the appearance of an experienced winner and be the envy of riders and audiences alike!

This is where The SCOOP steps in and helps to pull your presentation together before the gate call. You should be acquainted with the rules and regulations of your local Horse Industry Organization (HIO) that governs attire. You can also garner valuable input from experienced apparel and tack merchants.

First thing's first. You must familiarize yourself with a valid definition for presentation. Webster's dictionary defines presentation as "a symbol or image that represents something". In this case, tack and apparel are the symbols or images that represent the rider.

Wisely planning a good show wardrobe will not only help you make a good impression, but will also give you an extra bit of confidence each time you enter the arena, and save you time and aggravation in the long run. Invest in the best within your budget. Your apparel will last for years and still have good resale value if you plan, choose, and buy with long-term quality and durability in mind.

English classes require an English riding habit (saddle suit), riding boots, optional English spurs, pant tie downs or underpasses, optional gloves, and optional hat (homburg, top hat, derby, snap brim or helmet). Hair must be neatly groomed and long hair should be styled so that it does not hide the back number. In the Ladies Auxiliary class, exhibitors are required to wear a snap brim hat or derby and hair cannot hang below the collar.

Earrings should be small pearls, diamonds, or colored stones and under no circumstances should earrings dangle. Nice touches include a collar bar under the tie and either a very small flower or the more modern option of a small lapel pin. Keep your lapel pins at a reasonable size, and equine related pins are preferred.

Anything you wear must be fitted correctly. Finding a good tailor and investing in proper fit can do wonders for the appearance of any riding suit.

IT'S ALL ABOUT APPEARANCE

Lead Line

The Lead Line class showcases the future riders of tomorrow...our precious children and their cute little ponies! Matching English or Western attire for the handler and rider should complement the pony. Tack can be either English or Western but must be appropriate to the attire.

Model / Handling Attire

Clothing for colt handlers can vary upon the time of day they are showing and the weather conditions at the show. Typical attire is an English riding habit minus the jacket. Formal attire is desired for Championship classes held after 6 PM.

Handlers in the Model class can wear either English or Western attire, but the attire should be appropriate for the horse. If wearing English attire, the horse's tack must be English. If wearing Western attire, the horse's tack must be Western. (See checklists below.)

Formal Attire

Formal attire should never be worn at a one-night show. It is never appropriate to wear formal attire before 5 PM, even for Championship classes held during the day. During a multi-day show, even in a qualifying class after 5 PM, a day coat and suit are acceptable. Formal attire should be reserved for Championship classes after 5 PM.

Formal attire includes:

- Formal jods with a satin stripe can be worn with a day coat with shawl collar. They should be paired with a wing collar shirt, vest and bowtie or a cummerbund and bowtie.
- A tuxedo jacket and jods should match. The jacket should have satin lapels and a satin stripe should follow the outer seam of the jods. The tux should be worn with a wing collar shirt, vest and bowtie or a cummerbund and bowtie.
- White gloves are only appropriate if worn with a white wing collar shirt, vest and bowtie or a white cummerbund and bowtie.
- A lovely top hat, steamed and brushed, should always accompany formal attire.
- A wing collar shirt for ladies should have a smooth front. The shirt can have either a fly front or studs. Formal shirts can be made of cotton, but the most popular are silk.
- Formal vests and bowties are preferred over cummerbunds and bow ties, especially for ladies out of adolescence and with mature figures. The vest helps keep a pulled together look and adds punch to the outfit.
- Boots should be patent leather. Black works well with navy blue or black tuxedo or jods. To get your boots shining, clean them with Vaseline worked into a small, clean cloth.
- Bows in the hair should not be overpowering; they should be small and subtle and complement the outfit.

Hats

If you have a round face, a derby is not for you. You would look better in a small brimmed homberg steamed and shaped just for you. If you have a heart shaped face, you would look better in a derby steamed and curled. If you have a long slim face, a wider brimmed homberg would look best on you. If you are in a class where you must wear a tux, a top hat is a must; it finishes the look. Men should always show in a hat. You should always pick a hat color that goes well with your suit or if showing in a day coat, normally the hat matches the jods. If you choose to show without a hat, your hair should be very short or pulled back and put up and no strands hanging. This will ensure a very neat appearance.

Western Attire

To be eligible to show in Western classes, you must have western style long pants or jeans, western style long sleeved, collared shirt, a western hat, and western boots. Optional attire includes western style chaps, spurs, vest, jackets, and gloves. Western riders continue to have beautiful choices in colors and fabrics for their show apparel. Elaborately embellished clothes are always popular, but classic looks in quality materials and detailed tailoring are a wise investment that can be worn for years, not just a season.

For women's western tops, the key is comfort and the palette is pretty. Tall collars and ornate cuffs on fitted bodices continue to be the preferred silhouette, with many riders wearing waist-length tops worn tails out over the waistband of chaps.

Western clothing should coordinate with horse and saddle blanket.

Fine Harness Division

Fine harness attire requires men to wear a riding suit, formal suit or business suit with hat. Ladies must wear riding suits, formal or cocktail wear, or dress with appropriate top. Skirts and slits in dresses cannot be above the knee without the use of a lap blanket.

Equitation Appointments

In Equitation classes, the judge shall penalize those exhibitors who do not conform to proper appointments. Appointment requirements are based on good taste, which is always in style and always correct. A solid color or conservative pinstripe saddle suit is correct both day and evening and should be worn with coordinating vest, four-in-hand tie, man's style shirt, gloves, homburg, derby, or snap brim hat, and jodhpur boots. Underpasses are required, long hair must be styled above the collar and only small post earrings are acceptable.

Semi-formal Equitation classes require a saddle seat tuxedo suit with one-button coat in dark blue, brown, gray or black, with the collar and lapels of the same color and matching jodhpurs with a vertical satin stripe of matching color. A top hat, white formal tuxedo shirt, dark bow tie, cummerbund or pique vest, gloves, and jodhpur boots are also necessary.

Formal attire for Equitation is the same as the semi-formal suit, except worn with a top hat and white accessories, including white bow tie, cummerbund or pique vest, and gloves. Underpasses are required. The formal suit is worn only after 6 PM.

Tips on caring for your show attire

The following recommendations may seem redundant to a seasoned exhibitor but, with so many new exhibitors in the industry, we felt these tips would be beneficial. Careful maintenance will lengthen the life of your quality apparel by years.

- Always keep your show coat on a well padded hanger. A cloth bag is far superior to a plastic bag to protect your garments from dust and dirt. Plastic bags breed mold and dust and may dry out suede knee patches.
- Bring a lint roller to every show for quick touch-ups before entering the show ring. A soft bristle brush should be used sparingly due to the stress it may cause to some fabrics.
- Try to use the same pin holes for back number pins, as well as decorative pins worn on your coat lapel.
- Before and after showing, it is best to keep your garments away from the sunlight because the sun can cause damage to the fabric as well as fading.
- Keep a container of alcohol-free baby wipes in your tack box. When horse sweat gets on your coat (and eventually it will) use a few wipes and gently scoop away the sweat. Use the wipes as soon as your class is over so the sweat doesn't set in the fabric. This practice will make the dry cleaner's job a lot easier.
- Store your garments indoors in a well ventilated environment. It is best not to keep them in a tack room. Thoroughly and gently brush your garments after each show. Unless there are serious stains on any garment, it is not necessary to dry clean after each show. Frequent dry cleaning can be stressful to many fabrics and everyone's budget. A quick steaming will remove wrinkles.
- Make every effort to develop a good relationship with a reputable dry cleaner, to protect your investment. Suggest that your garments be cleaned with fresh fluid. Used or old fluid will not remove some spots and/or stains, and may actually discolor many fabrics.
- Do not use club soda or nail polish remover. They can aggravate the stain making it impossible to remove.
- Never press a stain on any garment as the stain may become permanently set.
- A baby's soft hairbrush will clean your hat, but the long handle on a real hat brush makes the job easier. Spots on felt hats can sometimes be removed by gently using fine sandpaper or an emery board. For straw hats, a soft brush whisks away dirt, and small stains can be removed with a dab of liquid soap on a soft cloth.
- Invest in a strong hat carrier. Don't use a plastic bag to store your hat as heat and moisture can mildew or warp the hat. Heat is your hat's enemy, so never store it in a horse trailer, car, or other area that may heat up.
- Always have on hand special rain gear for protection of your suit and hat. These plastic covers can be purchased at most any tack shop.
- Jod keepers are a great way to give your show pants a longer life. These jod keepers now come in fun colors and patterns. These have always been used in the Saddlebred breed and some walking trend setters are using them.

Remember, you'll never get a second chance to make a first impression, so be sure that you and your horse create the best possible impression each and every time you step into the show arena. Enjoy yourself! Years after the horse shows have ended, it's the friendships and adventures you'll remember more than any award or judge. Best of Luck!

Show Ring Accessories

Gloves- Gloves are a must have for the formal look. Some riders wear white gloves to give the complete black tie affair appearance. Gloves are always necessary in the equitation classes and are a great way to polish any rider in the show ring both male and female.

Tie Downs- Tie downs are required in English competition. There are many places that offer these for sale both with single or double buttons or holes whichever works best with your jods.

Spurs- Spurs are needed by some riders. There are English and western attire spurs. A very popular item now in the Western division is the crystal or poncho looking western leather spur straps. These styles help bling out the outfit.

Lapel Pins- Everyone loves to dress their riding suit up with a lapel pin. There are the very traditional looking pins that are silver or gold. Many enjoy adding a crystal looking pin to add some sparkle to the arena.

Bridles- The classic bridles in both English and Western divisions are being covered in crystals to give your horse a one of a kind look in the show ring.

Number Pins- These are the classic equitation pins to place your back number on your suit after being cut down to have the classic look in the show ring.

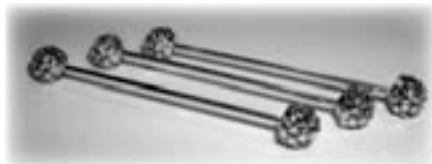

Number Magnets- These are a great way to give the polished equitation look similar to the Number Pins without the wear and tear on your suit. These come in a variety of colors and shapes. Also are great in the Western division too.

Tie rings- These are a new trend that are very popular in the Saddlebred breed and a few of the trend setters for the walking breed are wearing them now. They are all uniquely made and designed and help add that little extra flair to a saddle suit.

Show Ring Accessories

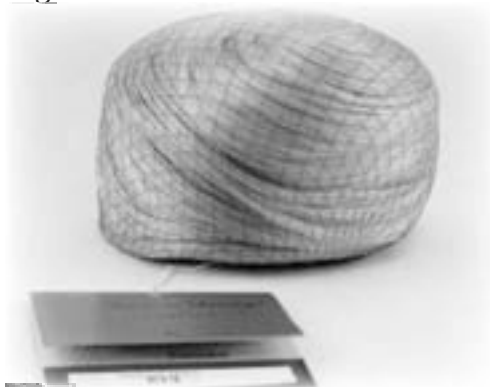

Tie Bars - There are clip on tie bars and the modern tie bars that go through the shirt. The modern hit is to wear a swarovski crystal tie bar that coordinates with your show suit, vest, and tie.

Stirrups - Bling stirrups are a new hit for the show ring. Custom crystal English and Western stirrups help you stand out in the ring.

Cuff links - Are most common on the male riders, but lots of ladies dress up there formal attire with some custom cuff links to set her outfit off and make a little different look than the black and white formals in the ring.

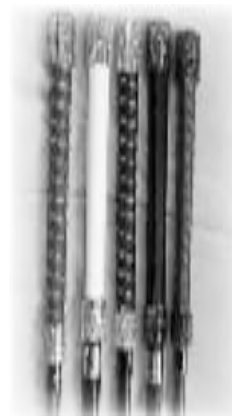

Fake buns - Today people are always in a rush and an easy way to have that great look in the show, like you spent hours on your hair, is to purchase a fake bun. These buns are made perfectly to show in with or without a show hat and come in all colors making it easy to find the perfect match for you natural hair color.

Hair bun bows - These are always seen on the equitation riders and many youth and lady riders in saddle seat attire. These come in an array of colors and designs and help dress up any suit. Also a big hit in both the english and western divisions is to pin a lapel pin in your show bun and give a dressy look to your hair.

Whips - Some riders require a whip to show their horse. There are all types of whips and lengths of whips. There are special whips with wooden handles and a huge hit now is the sworvoskie crystal whips. These are the special sparkle whips you may have seen in the show ring.

Ties - Bling Tie Affair ties are the biggest hit in the ring today. Patti Pollack picks the perfect tie to match your riding habit and then custom crystals each tie to perfection. This is the perfect way to accessorize any suit to add a little bling!

East Tennessee Trainers' Association Annual Barn Party

Kingston, TN - On Saturday, March 23, the beautiful Winding Creek Stables once again played host to the Annual Barn Party/Colt Preview for the East Tennessee Trainers' Association. This is the third consecutive year that the Dotson family has opened the doors of their state of the art operation and welcomed everyone in attendance. This year, for the first time, the East Tennessee Walking Horse Association and the East Tennessee Trainers' Association partnered to make this event a big kick off for the 2013 season and, from the looks of the horses, this is going to be one smokin' year. The only thing that could have made this day any more fun would have been sunshine!

The day's festivities began at 11:00 with a preview of horses and then taking a break to give everyone time to look over the silent auction items, the great stud fees, buy their 50/50 tickets, and enjoy great fellowship over a BBQ lunch. A live auction was then held to bid for this year's ETWHA calendar. Terry Dotson and WHTA President Mickey McCormick of the National Trainers' Association spoke to the crowd bringing everyone up to date on the industry and discussing the unity so badly needed to ensure that we can continue to show our padded performance horse with an action device. "We could never thank the Dotson Family and Brent Coburn for what they do for our trainers' association" stated President Larry Wheelon of the East Tennessee Trainers' Association. Over $16,000 was raised for the East Tennessee Walking Horse Association and the East Tennessee Trainers' Association. Congratulations to Betty Andrews and Jessica Birdwell for their winning bids on full page ads in the SCOOP.

A huge thank you is extended to the owners and staff of Winding Creek Stables for their hospitality and to the trainers who brought horses. At the end of the day, everyone left better informed, with lots of great items from the silent auction, and the chance to preview some of our most talented and beloved Tennessee Walking Horses.

THANK YOU, THANK YOU, THANK YOU!!!

We could never thank The Dotson Family, Brent Coburn and crew enough for all that you have done for the East TN Trainers' Association and ETWHA; opening your doors to your beautiful farm and hosting this event three consecutive years with all the hard work that you put into it. We appreciate it from the bottom of our hearts. With your help we raised over $16,000. We are so grateful for what you do for us. For all the volunteers that came out and put your time and effort into making our day special...THANK YOU....And, last but not least, a big thanks to the trainers that worked so hard to bring horses for everyone to enjoy. With your help, we had 65 horses to preview. We were well represented with trainers from Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, Middle and East Tennessee. A special THANKS to Terry Dotson and Mickey McCormick for your time in bringing everyone up to date on the state of the industry. Once again, thank you to everyone involved!!

Mark your calendars now for 2014!
